2019: Issue 3

Malaysia

After a year of investigation, an official inquiry into the 2017 abductions of Pastor Raymond Koh and Muslim social activist Amri Che Mat has concluded that a police intelligence unit was responsible. The commission determined that both men were victims of enforced disappearance for their religious activities. Malaysia is a Sunni Islam practicing country where proselytizing other religions, whether Christianity or the Shia branch of Islam, is a crime. Pray for truth and that Malaysian believers would have courage in persecution. (Source: Straits Times, Malaysian police behind pastor and activist disappearance: Human rights commission)
